

Nitron shock absorber for SUZUKI RAIDER R150 ('17) debuts

Equipping the most powerful engine in the class in its light weight body SUZUKI RAIDER R150 (MY2017) is very popular in Southeast Asian countries. In the development of the shock absorber the test rider of NITRON JAPAN repeated test runs in Bira International Circuit in Thailand. The tests were also conducted on the streets collaborating with the local rider. And the setting was fixed to best suit the use in the roads in Southeast Asia. Finally the best shock absorber which can handle various road conditions as well as the powerful engine has been developed. NITRON JAPAN is pleased to announce it begins the delivery of the shock absorber in Southeast Asian regions. The shock will be delivered simultaneously in Japan for the imported bike. MINI R3 Series for sport ride and MINI R1 Series for street ride are available according to the riders' needs.
